THURSDAY, MARCH 5, 1857.

THE COLD STORM OF 19TH JANUARY-Exhibited some peculiarities which are interesting. In some localities in this county (Jefferson county, Ky.) the mercury reached 27 deg.; the coldest period was a little before daylight, and the indications are that a wave of intensely cold air flowed over the land for ery short space of time only, as the thermometer enced rising almost immediately. On reaching the coldest point the cold stream of air seemed to flow through valleys and low flats, unmixed with the warmer air, and on some higher points it seemed to pass in waves unmodified by the less intensely cold air above it. This is evidenced by the singular disparity of the markings of different thermometers in places not far distanced apart; in one instance, three thermometers within a mile of each other marked 15 deg., 19 deg., and 25 deg., at about the same period of time, which was the greatest cold experienced in each place.

Again, the peach buds in some parts of the coun try are entirely killed, not a lone one to be found; in other places of about the same elevation, not more than two miles distant, they are but partially killed; and in some other locations they are scarcely harmed. In some places trees standing within a few rods of each other, have been very differently affected. The trees which were on ground twelve or fifteen feet below the general level had their buds all killed, while other trees in the same orchard, but on higher many buds uninjured, and in other places the buds on the lower branches of the trees were killed, while those at the tops of the trees

These instances seem to show that a flow of cold sir passed over the country, in some parts in narrow belts, unmixed with the warmer air which it displaced, in other localities mixing in varying portions, but gradually becoming thoroughly incorporated with warmer air, thus forming a temperature a little after sunrise nearly uniform throughout the country. This singular flow of a cold strata of air, so distinct in some places as to mark its depth as distinctly as if it had been some visible fluid, may perhaps be accounted for by supposing that the very great difference in density between it and the air it came in contact with made it less easy to unite together, just as in mixing liquids of different density-the greater the difference the more difficult to mix. We hope those who may have noticed any of the peculiarities of this cold storm will compare notes with their neighbors, and report to us any interesting fact they may

If the spring frosts do not kill the peach buds that this cold storm has spared we shall have its course distinctly mapped ont next summer by the peach crop-in some parts of the county there will be an abundant crop, while in others there will be

THE TEA TRADE .- The tea market has been in somewhat of an excited state since the receipt of the news of the troubles at Canton, but those best acquainted with the trade and with the Chinese people apprehend no great interruption of trade, although some change in the manner of carrying it on near grow out of the matter.

Nearly all the tea exported from China is consumed in the English dominions, the United States, and Russia. Other nations take only inconsiderable quanties. France with her thirty-five millions of people only consumes about one twenty-fifth part as uch as the United States with her twenty-seven millions, and Germany with seventy millions uses only about as much as France. The great quantity feer used in the latter country and of light wines in the former take the place of tea.

Isaac Metticoff, who has a family in Newport in this State, died in New Orleans on the 25th of February, from the effect of a gnn shot wound.

The accounts from the growing wheat crop in Tennessee are very favorable.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

SHIPPINGSPORT, March 4, 9: 30, P. M. Shippingsport, March 4, 9: 30, 1. M.
The following boats have passed through the canal to-day: Defender, Madison, Wm. Baird. W. B.
Terry, New York, and Marriner bound up, and the Moderator, R. F. Sass, Argyle, Glendale, and Dove bound down. Also one pair of ice boats and five or six pairs of coal boats. The steamers Gov. Powell and J. H. Cohn are waiting to come in, and the Cremons turned back to New Albany for some freight.

The river had fallen about 3 inches in the twentyfour hours up to last evening. The old mark at the head of the canal indicated 7 feet water, but there is about a foot more water, but there is about a foot more water for steamboats. It commenced raining about dark last evening.

The steamer Fairy Queen, bound to Nashville, got on the rocks at the head of the canal about daylight this morning. Mr. Cummings got her off last evening.

For New Orleans .- The David White has delayed her till noon to-day. The White is a safe boat and has splendid accommodations. Capt. McGill; her commander, is a model of officer. While he exer-cises every care for the safety of those who intrust themselves under his charge, he is kind and attentive, and has his passengers sumptuously provided for. Capt. Christ. Damon and James Smith are the pilots, and two better pilots never turned a wheel.

The Jacob Strader is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day, the Emina Dean is the Carrolton packet, and the Delegate and Rosalie are up for Pittsburg.

The Chancellor, another excellent boat, leaves also for New Orleans to-day.

The Monarch, probably the finest of the Cincinnati and New Orleans packet, leaves the city wharf at 10 o'clock this morning.

The Statesman and J. W. Cheesman are up for St. Louis, the Wm. Kuox for the Tennessee river, and the Chattanooga for Nasville.

The Northerner. - We have received a dispatch from Capt. Jas. F. Smith, of the splendid Memphis packet Notherner. She passed Evansville at 7 o'clock, last evening, will arrive this evening, and leave for Meniphis to-morrow evening. She has on board 200 bales of cotton for Cannellton

IMPORTANT TO SUMMER TOURISTS. - The season is rapidly approaching when hundreds and thou-sands of Southerners will flee their sultry homes and in the cool shades of the North seek pleasure and society. It is important to all such that they be advised as to the most pleasant route of travel, that they may experience all of the delights and none of the discomforts of being away from home. There is one route which we can recommend as being above all others in agreeable associations, freshness, and novelty. That is up the lakes from Niagara Falls, and into the possessions of Queeu Victoria on the Canadian side of the St. Lawrence.

Arriving at Montreal the traveler will find a mag nificent hotel in the St. Lawrence Hall, which is the largest in that city, and in immediate proximity to all the most interesting objects. It has recently been enlarged and greatly improved.

Mr. Baker the very agreeable and gentlemanly agent of the Lake Ontario and St. Lawrence Steamboat Company, at Niagara Falls, is now in the city. He intends visiting the South, and we hope will succeed in attracting much of the summer travel over his really delightful route.

The neighborhood of Broadway and Fulton and Nassau streets, New York, was thrown into great alarm early Sunday evening by a loud explosion. Upon investigation the cause was found to proceed from the store of Macy & Jenkins, 146 Fulten street, where a quantity of gunpowder exploded, violently bursting out the front and rear doors and windows of the lower story of the building, and scattering the splinters and fragments across Fulton street, to the great peril of persons in the vicinity. Fortunately, none of the passers by were injured. The affair is quite mysterions. There has evidently been a diabolical plot of some sort.

The Anzeiger des Westens, a German paper in St. Lonis, in arguing the policy of emaneipation in Missouri, gives statistics of population showing that slavery has only a nominal existence in one half of the State. There are twenty-two counties with a white population of about 100,000, that average only 47 slaves to each county. There are twenty-five other counties, with 121,000 whites, that average only 210 sl ves to each county. In the whole State there are only twety-nine counties containing more than 1,000 slaves.

HEAVY ROBBERY. - On Wednesday, the 18th ult., Mr. Charles Clark was attacked on the road about two miles east of Augusta, Hancock county, Ill., by two men, who, after wounding him with a knife and pistol, robbed him of $645 in gold, mostly in $20 pieces. The villains left Mr. Clark for dead. but we are glad to say that he is now recovering.

PREMICM CROPS OF POTATOES AND CORN .- The quantity of corn and potatoes per acre was not given in Dr. Barbour's report of those crops published last week.

The quantity of corn was 100 3-4 bushels and potatoes 103 1-2 barrels per acre. The potatoes were of the white Neshanoc variety.

RESIGNATION.-We understand that the Rev. H. M. Denison has tendered to the Vestry of St. Paul's Church his resignation as rector of that parish This action of the distinguished and able clergyman has cause profound sorrow among his numerous con gregation. Ill health has caused Mr. Denison's resignation.

HIDES AND LEATHER.-It is stated that Buencs Ayres hides-the best quality in market-now sell in New York for 341/2 cents per pound, while last June the price was 23 cents. This is a rise of fully 60 per cent. in eight months, though the present supply is not less than usual at this season of the year.

IRON IN ABUNDANCE. -The Ironton (Ohio) Register informs us that there in now 7,200 tuns of pig iron lying on the bank of the river in that town. Its value is $220,000, and the quantity in cords is about six hundred.

HEAVY FAILURE .- We understand that Mr. Wolfe amuels, late a merchant of this city, but now residing in New York, has made a consignment. His liabilities are said to amount to $180,000. The creditors mostly reside at the East.

There were no less than six fires in Baltimore last Sunday, and all from incendiaries. No great damage, however, was done.

THE REMAINS OF DR. KANE - To Arrive This Evening .- We have received a despatch from Cap'. Mather, dated at Evansville, announcing that the Woodford, with the remains of Dr. Kane, will reach this city this evening at 5 o'clock.

The steamer will not arrive until too late for the reception ceremonies to occur antil the next morning. We presume that, after the procession has passed through the city, the remains will be conveyed to the mail-boat, to be taken to Cincinnati. It will be seen by the following correspondence that the President of the Mail Company has tendered the use of their steamers for the escort:

Louisville, March 3, 1857.

To Dr. T. S. Bell, of the Committee—
DEAR SIR: Allow ine to tender you the use of the steamer Jacob Strader or Telegraph No. 3 for the conveyance of the remains of Dr. Elisha Kent Kane and escort from here to Cincinnati.

Yours, very respectfully,
Z. M. SHERLEY,
President Louisville and Cincinnati Mail Line.

To Z. M. Sherley,
President Louisville and Cincinnati Mail Line:
SIR: In reply to your note of the 3d inst., tendering the use of one of your boats for the conveyance of the remains of Dr. Kane and escort, I am authorised by the committee to accept your kind and generous offer. thorised by generous offer.

THE TREATY WITH MEXICO.-The intelligent Washington correspondent of the New York Courier & Enquirer writes under date of Feb. 28:

& Enquirer writes under date of Feb. 28:

The agents of the associated press will have apprised your readers of a part of the extraordinary provisions of Mr. Forsythe's treaty. But it is not correct that he had no anthority to make an arrangement of this character. He was specially instructed to make a treaty for the better regulation of commerce and mail communication. He was not authorized to make a loan, and there is a very deep significancy in his having attempted to do so. Such a design, successfully carried through, would be almost equivalent to the annexation of Mexico. It would put her in the position of a client and debtor, utterly unable to pay, and at the mercy of the patron and creditor, bent upon the acquisition of his estate. It is almost incredible that Mr. Forsythe should have tendered a loan to Mexico upon the pledge of revenues which have been again and again mortgaged to foreign creditors. There must be other mortgaged to foreign creditors. There must be other securities named in the treaty. The suspicion is general, and certainly is reasonable, that a mortgage has been taken upon some Lower California, Sonora, and the Isthmus of Tehuantepec.

The President has the power of amending the Treaty in any way be thinks proper before laying if in any way he thinks proper before laying it before the Senate. He may refuse to do so alto-gether. I think he will strike out the provisions in regard to the loan, and submit the projet, thus mutilated, to the judgment of the Senate.

It is the most alarming symptom of the decay and utter imbecility of Mexico, that ber rulers should have been willing to enter into a scheme like this. It is sustained wholly by the argument that, unless this loan be made, Comonfort's administration must succumb to the clergy, and within a year the sway of the priests will be supreme in the capital and the of the priests will be supreme in the capital and the provinces. And it is to arrest a calamity so direful, that the beneficent shepherd of American Democracy is invited to interest itself in the safety of the Mexican lamb. For the sake of this money the President of Mexico and his counsellors are willing to purchase a precarious and feverish existence of a few years, to be then ground into powder.

To the Editors of the Louisville Journal THE WATER WORKS.

ENGINERE'S OFFICE LOUISVILLE WATER COMPANY, LOUISVILLE, March 3, 1867.

I beg leave through the columns of your paper over my own signature, to make a few explanations in regard to the Louisville water works—that done, my duty to the company and the public will have beeu discharged, and I will drop the subject in the public prints.

It cannot be expected that the president, directors, or engineer of the Louisville Water Company have either the time or inclination to enter into a fruitless newspaper controversy with every anonymous writer who misapprehends the motives which influence their conduct, and finds fault with what they have done. Still there are certain rumors in circulation, and insinuations thrown out by anonymous correspondents in your paper, which I feel it incumbent upon me, in justification of the president, board of directors, and myself, to set right before the public. It has been stated on the streets that I recommended certain sites for engine house and reservoir, and that the board of directors selected different This is a mistake without the slightest foun-The sites selected were, after the most careful surveys and thorough examinations, conti-dently recommended by me to be the best, and were unauimously adopted by the board.

It has been frequently asked why the land near the Blind Asylum was not selected as the site for the reservoir, it having been recommended by other engineers as the most eligible point. If I have been recommended by the reservoir winformed as a contractive informed as a neers as the most eligible point. It have correctly informed, no accurate instrumental measurement of distances, leveling of heights, and sounding of the river shore were ever made by any Yet there may have been. Still other engineers. Yet there may have been. Still I am not responsible for their acts or views, but only for my own. I was not employed by the Louisville Water Company to erect an engine house and reservoir on certain designated localities. If I had been, my line of duty was a very plain one. But when I came to Louisville Mr. Harris, the president of the company, informed me that the citizens of Louisville had determined to erect water works, and had voted a liberal subscription to build them. That now determined to erect water works, and had voted a liberal subscription to build them. That for his part he had no preferences for persons or places; that there was the water power of the falls, and there were the surrounding heights, and sources falls, right of way, and laying a 30-inch pump-of supply, and he wished me to make full and thorough examinations, careful surveys and estimates, and select the very best sites, and recommend the best plans calculated to insure to the City of Louisville an ample, uninterrupted, and reliable supply of pure water. These were all the instructions I ever received; acting under them, and in a fathful discharge of my duty, I neither recommended the use of the water power of the falls nor the selection of the land adjoining the Blind Asylum as the site for the reservoir. The power to be used in elevating water, and the site selected for the reservoir, when their comparative advantages and disadvantages, as set forth in my report to the Board of Directors, are fully understood, I am satisfied will meet the cordial approbation of the people of Louisville.

I am consident that the water power of the falls caunot be relied upon as a certain and constant power to elevate an uninterrupted supply of water for the city of Louisville. To bring into requisition the aid of steam power, would involve in first outlay and keeping the machinery in proper repair to meet every contingency, an expense far exceeding the cost of the works recommended by me.

The land adjoining the Blind Asylum is high enough for a reservoir, but is without a pure supply of water, within a reasonable and convenient distance. But inasmuch as efforts have been made through the press to fix the public mind upon that particular spot, it may be expected of me to give the reasons why I did not recommend it. Without going into minute details, I will mention only a few of the prominent facts which influenced me.

To place the engine house below the mouth of Beargrass cut-off would require an inlet pipe to be laid under the stream between the main land and the towhead or Willow bar, through that bar and beyond it some two hundred feet, to reach deep and pure water, making an aggregate length of some eleven hundred feet of inlet pipe from the engine honse and pumps to the source of supply. I could not lose sigh candle factories situated upon it into the river above the mouth of the inlet pipe, making the most disgusting and poisonous compound and solution that the imagination could possibly conceive, contaminating and polluting with disease the whole source of supply. If I had disregarded these monitions, which were plain and palpable, and recommended this site for au engine house, I should have exposed myself to the censure and just indignation of the whole community.

In casual conversation I have said the lot adjoining the Blind Asylum, from its elevation and sur-ing the Blind Asylum, from its elevation and sur-face land, would be a most admirable place upon which to build a reservoir, but I never did say there was an eligible site for an engine house and a sup-ply of pure water within a convenient distance of it. At the time I made the examinations and took soundings of the depth of water, the river was at its very lowest stage, and even then, the north side of Willow Bar was strewn with decaying hogs' livers and other putrescent matter and offal from slaughter houses; the water was discolored with blood and slime for at least one hundred feet from the shore. When the river is higher, I am told the washings and impurities are exceeded with the washings.

the shore. When the river is higher, I am told the washings and impurities are carried out still further into the channel of the river.

It has been asked why the engine house could not be placed above the mouth of Beargrass cut-off, and the Blind Asylum lot be used for a reservoir. The answer is, that, owing to very shoal water, mud and sand bottom, and the great length of inlet pipe, which would have to be as long as in the other instance, the expense of coffer damming to lay the pipe would be much heavier; there would be very great practical difficulties in scouring out and keeping the pipe free from deposit of sediment and rubbish; there would be no landing for coalboats. Besides, the bank is so low that it would require a till of some twenty feet or more to place the pumping engines bank is so low that it would require a sill of some twenty feet or more to place the pumping engines above the usual floods. An inlet pipe of such great length, from the changes of the current and channel, from navigation, floating timber, and other causes is more or less liable to accident, and if any thing should happen it during a high stage of water or a freeze of the river, it would be impossible to repair it, and the supply of water would be cut off. After water has once been introduced into a city and it has come into general use in private families, hotels, machine-shops, and manufactories, there is no computing the loss and inconvenience it would impose upon a community to be deprived of it for a single day. How much greater then would be the loss and inconvenience to be deprived of it for several weeks and perhaps for months?

The true policy is, to build the water works upon

The true policy is, to build the water works upon a sure, simple, common sense, and perfectly reliablplan, irrespective of local or individual interests or feeling, to insure, as far as the perfection of machinery, the Ohio river, and surrounding circumstances will permit, a certain and constant supply of pure and wholesome water to the city. The site of pure and wholesome water to the city. of pure and wholesome water to the city. The site selected by me for engine-house has at the lowest stage of the river a depth of at least twelve feet water within sixty feet of the shore. At this point the river has a clear gravel bed, washed by the current. The source of supply is as entirely free from drainage and other impurities as it is possible to obtain from the Ohio river. This site was convendent tain from the Ohio river. This site also commands an excellent flatboat landing for delivery of coal at all seasons of the year. The site selected for a res-ervoir is a third of a mile nearer, the engine-house than the Blind Ayslum lot, which secures a very great and permanens economy of the pumping pow-er and fuel. It has also the advantage of nearly thirteen feet greater head. There can be no doubt entertained that the very best and most reliable character of water works can be built upon the plan recommended by me and adopted by the board of

An article, which appeared in the Journal several An article, which appeared in the Journal several days since signed by quite a number of gentlemen, directs the attention of the public and the Water Company to the application of the water-power of the falls to water works purposes. I have been told that the names signed to that article are those of very respectable gentlemen, and feeling disposed to treat all such with due courtesy, and give to the opinion of every citizen a respectful and impartial consideration, I will say to those gentlemen that the power of the falls had not escaped my atteution. I have given it, in all its phases, a careful examination, and am well satisfied that its application to the intended purpose will be much more expensive and far less reliable than the plan of works submitted by me and adopted by the Board of Directors.

ted by me and adopted by the Board of Directors.

To speak of the application of the water-power of the falls, in general terms, is far too indennite to form the basis of an estimate. I have declined its form the basis of an estimate. I have declined its use for the following reasons:

First.—Because the source of supply will be rendered impure by the discharge from Beargrass and by the filthy offal and drainage of the city.

Second.—Because, for a considerable period every year, no power can be derived from the falls, from the fact that the greatest head is but 24 feet; and, as the rise below the falls exceeds that at the head as 3 is to 1, or nearly so, at a very ordinary high as 3 is to 1, or nearly so, at a very ordinary hig rise of water the river would back up and sul merge the pump-house and machinery. The eddy or dead-water thus produced during a very high rise would effectually destroy the head and current and of course the motive power, and cut off the supply of water to the city.

Third.—Because the water-power required cannot be taken from the can'll without interrupting navigation. The Canal Commissioners, upon no cousideration, could, if they were so disposed, make any arrangement to furnish an unfailing water-powor from the canal. During the last summer there were three months' suspension of navigation, when no water was passing through the canal. This of-niain or pipe from the pump-house to the nearest elevated ground above the city, a distance of over 5 miles, would be so enormously expensive as to far exceed the entire amount voted by the citizens to build the water-works, and even then the water would be impure and the supply partial and interputed.

exceed the entire amount voted by the citizens to build the water-works, and even then the water would be impure and the supply partial and interrupted.

Fifth.—Because the deposit of mud and every kind of rubbish, to say nothing of the filth, is so great below the falls in consequence of the eddy as to seriously obstruct the pussage of the water through the strainer and inlet pipe to the pumps, and, when once in, would clog and cnt the valves of the pumps and very soon render them inoperative and useless.

Strth.—Because such water works would be inefficient and unreliable, and could not be rendered certain without the aid of steam power, which would add very considerably to the cost and complication of the works in their construction, as well as in running and keeping them in proper repair.

Serenth.—Because, assuming the head of the reservoir above the city to be 145 feet above the low-water mark, it would require an additional lift of 24 feet below the falls or 169 feet to attain the same altitude, which would demand an immense volume of water to perform this service, and involve a corresponding expense in the construction of the works and keeping them in proper action and repair.

Eighth.—Because, in addition to the enormous on the falls, in order to keep up a constant and reliable supply it would be necessary to add a steam engine to work the pumps, which would not only complicate the works very much, but would also devolve upon the company the expense of two sets of hands to meet the contingencies of high water and want of head. Steam engines will rust out from non-use faster than they will wear out when in active and continued service.

Ninth.—Because no city in the whole civilized world, up to this date, has ever shown herself so regardless of the cleanliness and health of her citizens as to foist npon them the concentrated filth from slaughter-houses, pork establishments, candle and soap factories, together with the entire drainage and sewerage of the city, and I did not think that Louisville was emul in the canal has been known to be discolored with blood from the pork-houses.

These objections could be carried to an almost indefinite number. But it is not my purpose to enumerate any more. What I have urged, I know will strike the common sense of every citizen, and each one is clearly demonstrated.

If there is in the city of Louisville a respectable gentleman, who does not understand and fully comprehend the force of my objections and wants infornation, if he will call at my office, I will take great pleasure in going into detailed explanations and estimates to convince him that my objections are well founded and unanswerable. I cannot go into the public prints again. public prints again.

In several of the anonymous articles which have appeared in the public prints, I am charged with utter ignorance of Hydraulies and Hydrostatics. This is a very grave charge against one professing to be a Water Works Engineer, and, coming from persons a Water Works Engineer, and, coming from persons utterly unacquainted with my qualifications, to say the least is unkind. I did not seek my present position—it sought me. I have not pretended to any very great attainments, or attempted to herald my own praises—I am too conscious of my own failings and shortcomings. For the last twelve years, the very flower of my youth and manhood, I bave devoted to planning, remodeling, and constructing water works. I have devoted my attention and study to water as well as steam for the motive powers. My research has not been limited to my own commerty, but I have visited all Europe, and there is not a My research has not been limited to my own conn-try, but I have visited all Europe, and there is not a water works of any importance in the world, the di-mensions and plan of which I have not accurately drawn to scale, which I now have in my office. Still, after all this, I am fully apprised of my very many deficiencies, and sincerely wish my qualifica-tions were greater. What I have done as a water works engineer and builder is before the world. My works speak for themselves. I could not hide their faults if I would. It does not become me to speak of their merits.

This much, however, I will say to the citizens of Louisville, that my whole ambition, skill, and energy are centered in this work, and if I am permitted to progress upon the plaus I have recommended, and which have been adopted by the Board of Directors, I feel certain will produce water works as reliable and cheap as any in this country, and, when finished, that neither they nor I will have any just

T. R. SCOWDEN,

Chief Engineer Louisville Water Co.

N. B. Not satisfied with my own surveys and estimates and the inferences and conclusions deduced from them, I visited Mr. E. Lockhart, the very gentlemanly and intelligent superintendent of the canal, and propounded certain questions to him, which, with the answers given, I publish below as fully confirmatory of the views I have expressed Question. How much head or perpendicular fall is there between the head and foot of the Ohio falls? Answer. About 24 feet.

Ques. How much does the river rise below the falls for every foot rise above the falls?

falls for every foot rise above the falls?

Ans. About three feet rise below the falls for every foot rise above the fulls.

Ques. Could any water from the canal be spared as power to propel machinery of any kind? If any, how much could be spared twelve hours every day to drive water works' machinery?

Ans. It would be utterly ont of the question to spare any water from the canal for such purposes.

Ques. Does it ever happen that there is an insufficient head of water on the falls to create any considerable power?

siderable power?

Ans. Yes, it often happens that the head afforded by the falls or canal is entirely insufficient, when there is not more than one or two feet head in the canal.

Ques. From your observation and experience, how many days in each year are there that the canal or falls does not, in your opinion, afford power to drive water works' machinery?

Answer. About 60 days every year, on an average.

Question. Suppose the Canal Commissioners or General Government would rent water from the canal for power to drive machinery, let the quantity be ever so small, would it not sometimes happen from the contingency of low water, repa cleaning out of the canal, or from sinking ve the same, become necessary to a vessels in the same, become necessary to draw off the water, and the power could not be furnished for any pur-

Answer. Yes, this is often the case; this last season the water was cut off from the canal nearly Onestion. Do you consider it possible by any Question. Do you consider it possible by any methodical device or water motor to maintain a constant power and supply of water for the City of Louisville, from the Falls, without the aid of a steam engine as a substitute for water power during the high stages of the river?

Answer. I do not. I know it cannot be done.

I have no confidence in the Falls to obtain a constant and reliable power for any purpose. Question. Could you state any practical difficulties, not mentioned, likely to occur in taking a supply of water near the foot of the Falls for distribution through the city?

Answer. Yes, speaking from my own experience with the canal I approbend there would be great difficulty encountered from the deposit of mud made by the eddy below the Falls, which is such that the lower lock of the canal is tilled with mud to the depth of 10 and 12 feet after high water. to the depth of 10 and 12 feet after high water.

EXPLORATION OF THE RUINS OF CARTHAGE. Accounts from Tunis, published in late English papers, announce that Mr. Davis, a gentleman who a few months ago obtained from the Bey permission to explore the ruins of Carthage under certain conditions, and who has been engaged during the last two months excavating in that locality under the auspices of the British government and the Museum, has made some valuable discoveries. An Arab having found a piece of elegant mosaic, Mr. Davis was induced to push his excavations in that spot, and his labors were rewarded by the discovery of the remains of an ancient temple, which is believed to be that of Dido. After cutting through two lavers of flooring, which must have been laid down at lengthened intervals, he came on a most splendid piece of mosaic of many square yards in area, and in which were delineated two heads, each three feet high, supposed to be those of Dido and Juno, besides several graceful Eastern figures, and a number of highly elegant devices and ornaments, equal, it is alleged, to the most beautiful specimens of the art vet brought to light.

WHEAT PROSPECTS .- The Springfield (Illinois) Jonrnal, of the 27th ult., says: "To this time, so far as our information extends, the wheat crop in this vicinity promises a good yield. The weather has not been so favorable as could have been desired, owing to the frequent thaws and freezing, but we understand it is generally alive, and, unless the March frosts are too severe, it may be considered

The Hillsboro' Herald, of the 28th ult., says: "From all parts of this and adjoining counties we hear the most flattering accounts of the appearance of this crop, and, as there was an unusual amount sown last fall, we may expect an abundant harvest."

The Jackson (Mich.) Patriot says: "We have visited portions of the country since the snow disappeared, aud we never saw the wheat look better; if present appearances continue it will be the best crop we have had for years."

INTERNATIONAL DOG FIGHT—Buffalo vs. Montreal. A celebrated dog fight came off at Bronte on Thursday, the 5th inst. The match was for $500 a side, and the result was the death of the Buffalo dog, which expired after a severe combat of two hours and fifteen minutes. Parties of the fancy were there from all parts of the United States and Canada. The first meeting was at the tavern, about two and a half miles east of Hamilton, but the Mayor and police, getting wind of the intended battle, were promptly upon the spot and dispersed the assembled crowd. They next attempted to rally at a tavern near Ancaster, but the Mayor and police bled crowd. They next attempted to rally at a tavern near Ancaster, but the Mayor and police were again too vigilant for them. A third time they rallied, and, engaging an extra train of cars, went to Bronte, a small village about seven miles northeast of Hamilton, where they found an empty barn, belonging to the active Mayor, who had thus twice dispersed them. There the grand battle was fought. The Americans backed "Thiker," the Buffalo dog, and the Canadians "Bony," the Montreal champion. The result was the death of the Buffalo dog, and the loss in bets of about $40.000 to the Americans the loss in bets of about $40.000 to the Americans the loss in bets of about $40.000 to the Americans the loss in bets of about $40.000 to the Americans the loss in bets of about $40.000 to the Americans the loss in bets of about $40.000 to the Americans the loss in bets of about $40.000 to the Americans the loss of the l pion. SPEECH OF HON. HUMPHREY MARSHALL, IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, FEB. 26, 1857, ON THE LOUISVILLE AND PORTLAND CANAL.

Mr. Marshall said: If I can command the attention of Representatives to explain the amendment which I have proposed, I shall be able, within the time I have by the rules, to ray all that desire to sulmit to the Home on this subject, now or hereafter.

The State of Kentneky, in 1825, granted a charter to a private company, known as "The Lonisville and Portland Canal Company," to construct a canal navigation around the Falls of the Ohio river. The capital stock, as fixed by the charter, was originally $690,000. It was afterwards increased, by act of the Legislature, to $700,000, and was expanded afterwards to $1,000,000. the last expansion being a stock dividend; that is, divided as a debt of the company among the stockholders for interest and dividends—the company then being without money. In this corporation the United States purchased 2,325 shares of stock, at $100 per share, and obtained $67 shares more by way of dividend, as just now stated, making the stock held by the United States from the commencement to fanuary, 1842, the United States from the commencement to fanuary, 1842, the United States from the commencement to fanuary, 1842, the United States from the commencement to fanuary, 1842, the United States for the whole amount of money subscribed by the United States to the work. I want you to mark the fact, then, that the Government, by subscribing to that work, is not out of pecket a dollar, and that the Lonisville and Portland Canal is the only work to which this Government ever did lend assistance that ever returned a dollar of its investment. That work returned, in the first ten years, the entire investment, and $34,278 more, besides the 567 shares of extrastock, for which the Government never paid a dollar in noney.

The first salient fact, then, is established, that this Government.

investment, and soal are note, used as a collar in money.

The first salient fact, then, is established, that this Government has not been a loser, but a gainer, by its interest in the Louisville and Forland c, nal, and has actually transferred to the saults of the United Statestreasury $3.250 in money from this work, as profit, of ther its whole investment had been returned, and still holds the 2,902 shares of stock in the corporation:

This statement is conclusive that the triinte paid by commerce to this causi was a very heavy one; and, naturally enough, it produced discontent among the people of the West and South. They saw this Government paying millions annually ont of the Treasury for ameliorations to commerce on the sea-howerd, in the way of light-houses, improvements to harbors, in erecting huoys and breakwaters, while the same Government was actually drawing authorised the profit from their toil, through the Louisville and Portland Canal. The Western people hegan to myrmur, and petitious were sent here to demand an appropriation from the Treasury for the establishment of a free canal, or some other mode of avoiding this heavy tax on the commerce of the Ohio river. These petitions for Congression al action alarmed the private stockholders of the Lonisville and Portland Company, since it was apparent that the establishment of a free canal, under the nauspice of this merce of the Ohio river. These petitions for Congressional action alarmed the private stockholders of the Louisville and Fordand Company, since it was apparent that the establishment of a free conal, under the nuspices of this Government, would render their investment not only profitles, but would amount to the destruction of the capital invested by them nuder the charter.

The expansion of the commerce of the Ohio river so carly as 1s42 had called for a chase of vessels that could not pass through the Louisville and Portland canal. The locks of that cauld were constructed only two hundred feet long, that heing a greater length than any boat them hull to navigate the Ohio river. I say, experience had proved that the length of voyage from the npper Ohio to New Orleans and St. Louis was such that only longer and larger vessels than these locks would pass could perform it with profit to holders of steam stock. Accordingly, larger and longer steamboats were huilt; and when below the "falls" they could pass back to Cincinnati only at stages of high water which permits them to ascend the "falls." Thus a break is made by the falls of the Ohio in mavigation, which, at most seasons, compels the shipper to hreak which navigate the lower Ohio and Mississippi, to small vessels which mavigate the lower thio and Mississippi, to small vessels which navigate the navigation at this transfer operate as as an additional tax upon the commerce of the river. The dividends of the canal company only exhibit the tax vartically. The total tolls received, from the completion of the work to January, 1842, was $1,120,350 55. Besides this, there was an additional tax upon every bound of freight which was transhipped acress the portage from Portland to Louisville, either on the accending or descending in avigation:

Portland to Louisville, either on the ascending or descending navigation?

But what was to be the remedy for this moustrons grievance? As I remarked before, the people demanded that Congress should remove thy making a free caust around the falls. On the other hand, the directors of the Louisville and Portland Canal Company, though perfectly aware that, in its existing condition, their work did not afford the facilities required by commerce, would not double their expenditure of capital to enlarge and deepen the caust, and to build looks of greater dimensions, menaced as they already were by the popular demands for relief from all tax upon this commerce, by the construction of a free Government caual. They had a perpetual charter—their work upon their capital—with a husiness annually increasing. Why did they want to dispose of such a franchise? I have already given the answer, and thatisthe excond point I desire to establish here, to-wit: The apprehension that the action of this Government might, at any moment, destroy the value of the stock in the Louisville and Fortland Canal Company, by creating a free canal as its competitor, and the fact that such a movement was continually pressed upon Congress induced the stockholders in that canal to part with their froperny, and induced Kentucky to take the action in the matter to which I shall presently allinds.

I have shown that the people demanded a free canal, and tended by pressed upon Congress undired the stockholders in that canal to part with their properly, and induced Kentiticky to take the action in the matter to ichich shall presently allude.

I have shown that the people demanded a free canal, and that commerce demanded an improved canal, with increased accommodations to mayigators. It was supposed both of these conditions could be met by the stockholders in the Louisville and Portland Canal giving up their property at a valuation, being compensated therefor, and by a transfer of the work to the United States Government (already a part owner), and by the subsequent improvement of the work by the United States, other by a direct appropriation of money from the Tready a provenent improvement of the facilities of the canal. Application was made to the Legislature of Kentacky to enable the company to carry out this view. At the session of 1842 they presented their petition. The language of their memorial exhibits thus the apprehension under which they acted.

"In the repeated applications to Congress for another canal, the hostility exhibited to the company focury of its rights are entertained in Congress and elsewhere, together with the general expectation that the throughfare for the navigation of this important section of the Union should be free. Under these circumstances, it has been deemed prudent by many who are largely interested that although if fully assured of the reserve and stability of all the rights and immunities granted them by the charler, the stock would be a good investment at $250 per share, yet from the indications of Government and individual interference, they would be content to receive a sum much below the intrinsic value of their stock."

In respense to this petition the General Assembly of Kentucky passed an act, in February, 1842, amending the

In response to this petition the General Assembly of Kertucky passed an act, in February, 1842, amending to charter of the company, by which it was provided that:

In response to this petition the General Assembly of Kentucky passed an act, in February, 1842, amending the charter of the company, by which it was provided that:

"Whenever the stockholders in said company shall direct, the Board of President and Directors of said company shall have the privilege of selling the clinted States, or the State of Kentucky, or the city of Lunisville, for the purpose of making the canal to the United States, or the State of Kentucky, or the city of Lunisville, for the purpose of making the canal-tree of folle; or further, to effect this object, the Board of President and Directors, when so authorized, as aforesaid, shall hereby have the pricilege of appropriating the net income arising From said canal to the purchase of said stock, instead of making dividents therewith."

At a meeting of the stockholders on the 4th of July, 1842, it was resolved by a majority of votes to accept and ratify this act. I desire to traw the especial attention of the House to the fourth section of the act. I have recited, and to an act supplementary thereto. These exhibit the conditious under which this Government is now called on to act. The said section provides:

"Threshares op urchased by the board shall be voted on by them at all subsequent meetings and elections, until, by the operation of the provisions of this act, all the shares shall have here purchased my and when the said shares shall be all purchased. He same shall he transferred to the Government levying tolls, for the use of said canal, only sufficient to keep the same in repair and pay all necessary superintendence, enstody, and expenses, and make all necessary improvements, so as fully to answer the purposes of its establishment, and further to protectand guard the interests of commerce. The superintendent or agent of said canal shall ever hereafter, on the first Monday of Jannary, annually report to the General Assembly of Kentucky the amount of tolls levied and received, and of the charges and expenses incurred to the latter part of th he made by the United States, or their agents and superintendents, to the General Assembly of this Commonwealth.

"Approved February 22, 1844."

I presume, Mr. Speaker, that the objection to the act first cted came from this Government, inasmuch as the stockholders had already accepted the provisions of the amended charter so carly as July, 1842. The act amending the charter required the valuation of stock for sale to be fixed at the minimum price at which a purchase could be effected, provided that the maximum should not rise above x159 per share. The stock was worth then in the market 1802, as well as I can accertain. The stock minimchased in any one year after the valuation carried six per cent, per ammin interest upon the valuation until it could be purchased.

I have now detailed to you the arrangement in full. The United States were party to this arrangement, as a stockholder and a voter in the acceptance of the terms. They have stood by silently until, under this arrangement, the stock of the Louisville and Porthand Canal has been purchased by the Heelsent and Directors, and is held in trust for the United States on the performance of the conditions stipulated in the act of the General Assembly of Kentucky.
Only five shares remain in private hands, and these remain only to keep alive the corporation until the United States shall have an opportunity to act, in accepting and determining to perform the conditions required by the act of the Kentucky Legislature. They can be purchased at any moment, with the means of the company that are on hand.

The third point is established to which I desire your attention, to with the whole stock of that canal is more held by the United States, or in trust for the United States, and still your Treasury has not lost one dollar in making the acquisition. To acquire the outstanding seven thousand one hundred and minety-eight shares, this Govcrument has not expended the first cent; but it has all been drawn, cent by cent, from the lardy toll of the West would take charge of the work, accept the conditions, and generously step forward and appropriate from the Treasu-ry a sum sufficient to make that canal "answer the purpo-ry a sum sufficient to make that canal "answer the purposes of its establishment."

Mr. English. I rise to a question of order. The point I make upon the gentleman from Kentucky is, that he is asking for an appropriation not authorized by any existing law of the United States, and that his amendment is not germane to the hill, inasmich as there is nothing about the Louisville and Portland Canal in the bill.

The Speaker. The gentleman from Kentucky is not at present debating the bill.

Mr. English. I ask, then, whether it is in order for the gentleman from Kentucky, in debating the hill, to discuss a question about the Louisville and Portland Canal, which is not mentioned in the hill?

Mr. H. Marshall. I shall conclude directly.

Mr. English. I iusist npon a decision of my point of order.

The Speaker. In the opinion of the Chair the gentleman from Kentucky is in order.

Mr. Marshall. Then I will proceed. I have stated how this process of liquidating the stock of the canal has progressed since 1842, until the whole has been purchased by the president and directors, and is held in trust for the Universident and directors, and is held in trust for the Universident and directors, and is held in trust for the Universident and directors, and is held in trust for the Universident and directors, and is held in trust for the Universident and in the opinion of the Universident and the Opinion of the

"make it answer the purposes of its establishment." To this course she will be forced by the policy to which I have referred.

Gentlemen: say this Government has entered into no contract, incurred no obligation, to collarke and improve the Louisville and Portland Canal; that that is only the nection of the Kentucky Legislature. Sir, for fourteen years this Government has stood silently observing the absorption of stock for its henefit, which stock this Government and its officers knew full well was only parted with by the holders because of the attitude this Government was constantly pressed to assume; and it seems to me to be rather late now to avow a want of knowledge of the transaction. I admit that I am not able to point to any direct act of the Government with precise of the attitude this conjunction of the Government and the process of liquidation that has heen steadily pursued since 1s42, by the president and directors of the company; the silent acquisvence of this Government; the failure to ask for any explanation of the cessation to pay the dividends on Government stock; yet the continued representation of the Government stock; in electious of the president and directors has committed this Government for ten years and more to an acceptance of the Kentucky act. In a control equity it would be so held; lor, if I stand by and see a mau sell his property on condition that it shall be transferred to me upon my pledge to do or perform a certain act, and I do not interiere when I have knowledge of what is going on, I would be considered by the chancellor as bound to redeem the pledge, and it would be enforceable by any party in interest; but, if this Government has an intent to repudiate the contract, and to refine to accept the seven thousand one lundired and ninety-eight shares of stockso jurchased, letthat tact be known anthorizatively and legitimately, and without any proceastination. The moment lor this Government on one relinquishing that canal to the State of Kentucky, I will vote for it. I understand

NEW ARRANGEMENT .- Dealers and consumers will be glad to learn that, after the first day of March, Dr. R. D. Porter's Oriental Life Liniment will be put up in three different size bottles at the following prices: Twenty-five cents, Fifty cents, and One dollar per bottle. The dollar bottle contains as much as five Twenty-five cent bottles and the Fifty cent bottle holds in the same proportionmaking it the interest of the consumer to buy the larger sizes. The proprietor has found it necessary to make this change in order to suit a large class of consumers who prefer purchasing the fifty cent and dollar sizes on account of their being cheaper. To avoid counterfeits, take none unless the word genuine is blown in the glass. feb28

Bournon County Stock—Stock Sales.—Last Monday was a cold disagreeable March day, which probably prevented the large crowd of people and stock from being as great as it would otherwise have been, and the prospects of a backward spring somewhat cooled the ardor of buyers. There were about $100,000 worth of stock offered. The price of mules was well sustained; two year olds sold from $70 to $125; wearlings from $65 to $95; colts from $45 to $80. There was a number of jacks and jeunets on hand, some of them direct from Spain. Simeon Kirtly, of this county, sold one four year old jack to Duke & Lee, of Boyle county, for $1,900; the same firm purchased one jennet and her jack colt at $1,500, and one jennet at $600.

[For the Louisville Bulletin.] A CARD.

A CARD.

Having been applied to by many of my friends to know whether I would be a candidate for reelection to the office (which I now hold) of City Attorney, my reply has been that I would, provided I should be the nominee of the "American party," but not otherwise. I have since nnderstood that a report has been circulated concerning me or my acts as City Attorney, which, if true, would be a just cause for gentlemen not only withholding from me their support, but also for their regarding me with disfavor even in my private relations.

And wither is not the least semblance of truth in the my acts as City Attorney, which, if true, would be a just cause for gentlemen not only withholding from me their support, but also for their regarding me with disfavor even in my private relations.

And, as there is not the least semblance of truth in the report, I consider it due to my self to contradict the charge; and, to that end, ask leave now to tresspass on the public. The charge is, that, concerning the fines against some of the citizens for retailing liquor without license, I received my portion of the fines, and then signed petitions to the Governor to remit the Commonwealth's portion.

I deny that I so acted in any case; and defy the production of proof to the contrary.

It is true, however, that in some cases I did release a part of my proportion of the fines; and it is also true that, had I felt disposed, it was in my power to have made thousands of dollars by a strict enforcement of the law. To have done thus I thought would have been unjustly oppreasive on many citizens, and therefore declined; nor have I since regretted it or wished that I had acted otherwise. I have on many citizens, and therefore declined; nor have I since regretted it or wished that I had acted otherwise. I have more joined in a petition to the Governor to remittany fine, in any kind of case, where I was entitled to a portion of the rine, unless I first released my part.

Another reason assigned by some of the friends of the aspirants to the office of City Attorney why I should not be re-elected is because, as they say, I have made enough money during the outcerns.

Well, I admit that I have derived profit from the office, yet nothing near the amount reported. I accepted the office hecause I believed it would be profitable, and would not have accepted it had I considered it otherwise. Knowing that I have to pursue some honorable employment for a support, I am induced, as others are, to engage In that which may be tendered to me, which I ried I cau properly perform and which will be most profitable, and would have been paid th

A GANG OF THIEVES-Extensive Arrest-$50,000 that Stolen.—Some time ago information was given at the Mayor's office of the existence of an extensive arganized gang of thieves who made depredations along the line of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wryne comes along the line of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wryne are Chicago Railroad, stealing goods at various cause from the freight cars to the amount of $50,000. Their chief point of rendezvous was at some particle on in Ohio, and Mayor Weaver immediately compatched High Constable Hague and seven other manufactors of the Mayor's police to that vicinity, who in conjunction with officer Pinkerton, of Chicago have at length succeeded in arresting ten of the ringlesders at some point near Crestline. We magive some further darticulars soon.

Checks to the amount of $80,000 were found scattored around in various directions. No arrests have Officers Hague, Richardson, Wray, Reed, Hamilton, Hastings, Spence and Moon, were dispatched from Pittsburgh. A large amount of the goods have been removed. From subsequent information rebeen acrested, making nineteen in all. The arrests were made at various points, Crestline, Wooster, Manageld, Oreville, &c. One woman only was arrested as having been connected in the robberies. The was merely a receiver of the stolen goods.

[ From this morning's Journal.]

MR. BUCHANAN'S INAUGURAL. Washington, March 4.

Mr. Buchanan's manner in delivering the inaugural address was remarkably impressive and deternined. He began by an appeal to the Almighty for strength and wisdom to carry out the administration of the affairs of the country to the advantage of the people. As he had determined not to try to be allowed for a second Posidantial term his adminisof the affairs of the country to the advantage of the people. As he had determined not to try to be elected for a second Presidential term, his administration should be conducted purely for the best interests of the whole country. He spoke of his election as having been accomplished by those who were sincerely desirous for the preservation of the Union. He congratulated the country on the fact that agitation on the subject of slavery had almost entirely ceased, and he declared that, for the first time in twenty years, the country had arrived at peace on that subject. In reference to Kansas, he declared that it should be admitted with either freedom or that subject. In reference to Kansas, he declared that it should be admitted with either freedom or that is should be admitted with either receding a stayery, according as the constitution adopted by the people directs. He went into a long argument to show that the Kansas-Nebraska bill was right in to show that the Kansas-Nebraska bill was right in principle. The equality of States, he said, must be p eserved. He added, however, that slavery was less inportant, practically, than some other subjects before the American people. The geographical parties to which the agitatation of the slavery question has given birth must die. The spectacle which was now presented of our whole people submitting quietly to the will of the majority, as expressed at the polls in the last election, was characteristic of this and no other nation; so he thought these geographical parties what die cut and no other nation; so he thought these geographical parties must die out.

He said that corruption in a Federal Government was fatal to its institutions. Although in a corrupt country the forms of free institutions might remain, the life was gone. His administration should aim at purity in all its departments. Extravagance in the disposal of the public lands, he declared, must be put a stop to so that our children may secure homes to themselves and the brood of speculators and jobbers who live upon them may be crushed. and jobbers who live upon them may be crushed. The laws in regard to naturalization should remain as they are at present, putting foreign and native-born citizens on a fair democratic level. In regard to the Pacific railroad project—such a road, he said, may be made by Congress in the shape of a military road to enable the Government to extend protections. may be finder by Congress and the Pacific coast. Congress has full power to do this and he agreed that it must and should be done in order that we might be prepared on that coast for the emergency of war. Our foreign policy must be to cultivate peace and good will with all nations, but at the same time all entangling alliancess must be avoided. This has been an axiom of our Government ever since the days of Washington, and none dare now dispute its propriety. It has been the boast of the United States that none of their territory has been acquired by war as has been the case with most other nations, and this must continue to be our policy. We must refuse to take any territory whatever unless it be acquired by honorable means. Our diplomatic relations must be frank and honorable, and, by pursuing such a policy, we shall continue to hold our position among the great, leading powers of the world.

Mr. Buchanan read his address closely from a manuscript which he held in his hand. His voice was clear, but owing to a dense crowd (many of whom could not see him), there was some interruption and all of his address was not distinctly head tion, and all of his address was not distinctly heard.

There was much applause at those portions which referred to the equality of States, the evils of geographical parties, and the naturalization laws.

Beyond the fainting of a few ladies in the crowd, there were no incidents of an unpleasant nature. The procession was the finest ever seen in Washington, and the number of people present in the city exceeds everything ever known before. There were many banners bearing appropriate devices. There were several revolutionary flags from Virginia, which excited much attention.

Chief Justice Taney administered the oath of office at 1½ o'clock, and was the first to congratulate the President. Vice President Breckinridge, ex-President Pierce, Senator Bigler, and other prominent politicians, were on the portico during the ceremouy.

THIRTY-FOURTH CONGRESS-SECOND SESSION. Wednesday's Proceedings

WASHINGTON, March 4.

The House and Senate continued in session all The House and Senate continued in session all night. At 4 o'clock the House took a recess, and at 5 o'clock the Senate took the same course, to meet again at 9. On re-assembling, the business in both branches was mainly confined to reports from the several committees of conference.

Evening Session.—The Senate disposed of a large number of private bills from the House, concurred in numerous amendments, and re-enacted others.

Mr. Stuart, from the committee of conference on the deliciency bill, made report recommending that the deliciency bill, made report recommending that the Senate recede from some of their amendments. The appropriation of $183,000 for books for distribution among the new members of the House was reduced to $137,000.

Mr. Stuart hoped the report would be concurred in. It was the best they could do.

Messrs. Biggs, Toombs, and Bayard opposed the report, preferring to lose the bill rather than yield their hostility to book amendments.

The report was disagreed to—yeas 8, nays 38, and nother committee of conference was asked for. The ocean mail steamship appropriation bill was

The payments falling due in bank yesterday were ge ally promptly met. Money continues very scarce. changes remain as before.

The provision market was very quiet yesterday, and we heard of only one sale of mess pork, 110 bbls, at $21. Nothing was done in bulk meats. Sales of 150 casks pork-house bacon shoulders at 9c packed and 12 casks clear sides at 11%c, pages extra. Shoulders are now held by bacon dealers at 9%c, 11c for ribbed sides and hams, and 11%c for clear sides. A sale of 112 kees and 17 bbls of country iard from store to the trade at 12%c round. There was a large quantity of bacon in from the country, estimated at fully 50,000 lbs, which sold at a further advance. The closing rates yesterday were 8%c for shoulders, 10%c for ribbed sides, 10% for hams, and 11c for clear sides, and 12% and 13c for prime bbl and keg lard.

But little was done in groceries. A sale of 100 bags Rio offee at 11%c and about 50 bags in small lots at 11@11%c; small sales of Laguyrs at 12%@12%c. In sugar, sales of 20 hhds at 11%c, 12 ihds at 11%@11%c, and 12 to 15 hhds at 11%@11%c. Not much doing in molasses; we quote plantation to the trade at 68@70c in bbls and 70@72c in hf bbls, according to quality.

Flour is unchanged; light sales of superfine at $5 50. Wheat $1 10@$1 15. Corn and oats very duli and receipts large. Some 6,000 bush corn received yesteriay were ship-ped to Clucinnati. Dealers do not offer over 45c for corn aud 42c for oats. Sales from store in iots at 55c for corn and 50c for oats. Sales of 49 inhds tobacco—10 at $7 15@$7 95, 5 at $8@ $9 75, 13 at $9 05@$9 95, 2 at $10 and $10 95, 3 at $11 10 @$11 95, 6 at $12@$12 95, 5 at $13 10@$13 75, and 2 at $15 80 and $16 30.

Hay continues firm at $20 for prime from the wharf. Clover seed we quote at $3 25. Stock light, Sales of 70 baies Canueliton sheetings at 9½c and batting at 16c. Shipments to Wheeling 15c and to Pittsburg 20c. To New Orleans rates unchanged.

CINCINNATI, March 4, P. M. Flour is unchanged and in moderate demand at previous prices. Whisky declined to 23% and dull. Provisions are active and higher, bacon sides baving advanced %c and shoulders %c—sales of 1,600 bbls country mess pork at $20, 400 hhds bacon at 9% c for shoulders and 11c for sides, 150, 000 hs bulk sides at 9% @9% c, lard is held out of the market, nothing done in bulk shoulders, a sale of 10,000 hs stearine at 14c -a further advance. Lard oil has advanced to $1 05 and firm. Cloverseed is held at $8, with no sales ver $7 75, stock very light. The Price-Current published eturns of the pork packing from eleven additional places. ucreasing the deficiency to 341/4 W cent.

PORK PACKING STATISTICS.—The Cincinnati Price, Cur rent, of the 4th, says:

In the hurry of preparing the returns of the number of hogs packed at the different places, for our last issue, two or three errors occurred in the figures, none of any consequence, however, except one, where, by the addition of a cypher, we made the number packed at Lewistown, Ill., this season 32,650 instead of 3,265.

During the week we have heard from cleven places, leaving only some four or five unimportant points yet to hear from, and, if it were not for the fact that we have not yet received the returns of the shipments East, over the Eric and Baltimore and Oblo rall-ways, we would have published our final statement the present week.

The falling off at the places we heard from during the week is much larger than we expected. The comparison is as follows:

Decrease...... 64,587

To which we must add 29,395 for the error made in the returns from Lewistown, in our last, thus swelling the deficiency to 94,072 hogs at the places heard from during the week. This being added to the deficiency shown in our last, swells the total number deficient to 88,517. The total footing for last year, from all the places heard from to date, is 2,494,802.

Sr. Louis, March 3. ST. LOUIS, March 3. Hemp declining, with sales of 50 bales ordinary in loss at $125, 48 bales fair in lots at $130, 19 bales at $131, 110 and 46 bales good fair at $133, 40 and 72 bales at $135.
